"Life is too precious to be fighting wars each day War can't give life it can only take it away."
"War" by Strong and Whitfeld, Springsteen Live '75-'85

My first order of business is an apology. I haven't been giving my games or my players the attention they deserve the past few months. There have been too many errors and delays, and I believe the NMRs lately are a direct result. The problem is not so much lack of time but mismanaging the time I do have. Hopefully this issue is the start of prompt accurate results once again.

TIGHE-BISHOP: How many "B's" in annihilate?
BELGOROD-DNESTROVSKIY: Dnestrovskiy Liman, a small lake near the shores of Russia's once beloved Sevastopol, was overflowing. When asked where all the water was coming from, the Tzar muttered, "Heck! That's from Austrian tears. After all, to try for Rumania, lose that effort, and still be ther, is something to cry about, isn't it?" A small plane was heard overhead. (Hey! What's with this small plane bit, huh, anyway?)
BELGOROD-DNESTROVSKIY: Dnestrovskiy Liman, a small frog ridden village near the Russian front. In reply to a request about information on a small plane that keep appearing ove Russian soil, the Turk responded: "Lost in the fog again!" When asked why the pilot was lost in the fog, the Turk, smirking and tilting his head back in forth in merriment, retorted, "Aw! Shucks! Them's pilots, ain't they?" ((I just type 'em. I don't explain 'em.))

BUDAPEST-WORLD: The Austro/Hungarian Ruler, Sir Robert, has proclaimed Serbia into his grand empire. "We saw, we like, we conquered," he said at the Royal banquet honoring veterans of the Austrian Tiddley wink championships.

ROME-VIENNA: I have heard demands from your peoples to allow teachers to commence with Italian lessons at school!

CANAKKALE: Fish scurried for their very lives. The foam on the water multiplied. And, the oil slick grew larger. The people of this tiny fishing village looked across the Marmara Denizi at the town of Eceabat and saw the cause of all this: a large fleet readied itself for sea duty.
